

Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis

```
.style1 {
font-family: Arial, Helvetica, sans-serif;
}
.style2 {
font-family: Arial, Helvetica, sans-serif;
font-size: small;
}
.style3 {
font-size: small;
}
.style4 {
font-family: Arial, Helvetica, sans-serif;
text-align: center;
}
.style5 {
font-family: Arial, Helvetica, sans-serif;
font-size: medium;
}
.style6 {
text-align: center;
}
```

Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis, IN

The Department of Pediatrics at Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis, IN and the Indiana University School of Medicine offers a 3 year fellowship in Child Abuse Pediatrics. This program offers a breadth of training experiences at 3 hospitals in an urban metropolitan area. As the referral center for the entire state of Indiana, trainees are exposed to a wide variety of clinical, legal and multi-disciplinary cases. Fellows will train with 3 Child Abuse Pediatrics faculty as well as a number of clinical subspecialists and have research opportunities with Children's Health Services Research at Riley Hospital. Fellows will have the opportunity to work towards a Masters Degree in Clinical Research or Public Health.

Fellowship description.

Contact

Antoinette L. Laskey, MD, MPH

410 West 10th
Street

Suite 1020

Indianapolis, IN 46202

317-278-0552