

Paul K. Kleinman, MD

Paul Kleinman, M.D. is the Chief of Musculoskeletal Imaging in the Department of Radiology at Children's Hospital Boston and is Professor of Radiology at Harvard Medical School. He is board certified in Pediatrics as well as Pediatric Radiology. He has been actively involved in the field of imaging child abuse for the past 25 years. He has authored approximately 100 scientific publications, most of which have dealt with child abuse and its imitators. He is the author of "The Diagnostic Imaging of Child Abuse" published in its second edition in 1998 by Mosby Company. He is the principal author of the current recommendations/standards for imaging suspected child abuse published by the American Academy of Pediatrics and the American College of Radiology.